

Entity Relational Model: Airport Flights DB

R1: A Flight is possible only with one Airplane. An Airplane can be in several Flights.

R2: A Flight can go only to one City. A City can host several Airplanes.

R3: A Flight may contain several Tickets. A Ticket is only valid for one Flight.

R4: A Flight is attached to one Flight Register. A Flight Register is only for one Flight.

R5: A Passenger may have several Tickets. A Ticket is only for one Passenger.

R6: An Airline may have several Airplanes. An Airplane should belong to only one Airline.